OXFORD ITEMS.—Our Oxford correspondent writing under date of the 1st inst., sends us the following:

The two tobacco warehouses at Oxford are driving a good business.
We heard a prominent farmer, who sold his tobacco at Taylor's warehouse, say that he received more for it than the "price he had fixed on in his mind as what it was worth or ought to bring,"
and at Osborn's warehouse a small lot,
belonging to Mr. Wm. K. Jenkins, brought one hundred and seventy five dollars per hundred pounds.

Mr. A. E. Henderson, a promising young lawyer of this county, has lately become a citizen of Oxford. He is a member of the distinguished family of Henderson, many of whom, by their superior mental endowments, have written their names high in the niche
of fame in several States of the Union,
and a descendant of the gifted Judge Henderson for many years a judge of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, whose legal opinions, not to say legal intuitions, were equally as remarkable for their sound common sense, as for their keen penetration.

Dr. E. W. Owen has rented a portion of the Osborn House as a residence for his family. He has also rented an office at the Osborn House, to be used for the convenience and accommodation of those who may require his professional services.

Mrs. Susan P. Wiggins, wife of James
M. Wiggins, for many years a resident of Oxford, died in Rusk, Texas, on the 28th of December, in the sixty-third year of her age. Mrs. Wiggins was a sister of the late Dr. James A. Russell, of Granville, and the half sister of Col.
R. J. Mitchell, who is at present a citizen of Oxford. Her husband was for many years a clerk of the County Court of Granville. He was also a zealous member of the Presbyterian Church, and, we believe, one of its elders up to the time of his removal to Texas.

OUR CHURCHES TO-DAY.—Divine services will be held at the following and others in the city are earnestly and

BUY YOUR TICKETS.—The Vue de l'EAU Gift Concert will take place on the 20th inst. This concert, which is in the hands of some of the most reliable gentleman in Virginia, has for its positive object the completion of the Vue de l'EAU property, the summer resort below

Norfolk, which became so fashionable last summer, while the gifts to be awarded are valued at $100,000.

Knowing personally many of the gentleman connected with the enterprise, and having enjoyed a brief season at the seaside resort which it is sought to improve, we are prepared to speak positively of the merits of the whole thing, independent of the prizes that are to be given away.

Mr. R. H. Bradley, of this city, is the agent for the sale of tickets.

THE BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.—
Mr. W. L. Montague, who yesterday morning advertised in the NEWS that he would do glass gilding in the city for a few days, came in our office yesterday afternoon "to congratulate us," he said, "upon the value of our paper."

He had received a large number of orders during the morning.

Some several days since a firm in Norfolk advertised in the NEWS 1000

partitions in North Carolina with $5,000 or $10,000 capital. Within three days

we received a letter from a responsible party desiring to invest in the place.

Who will say that advertising in the NEWS don't pay.

SUNDAY.....FEBRUARY 2, 1873.

NO TAX RECEIPT, NO VOTE.

Our proposition that no man should be allowed to vote until he can show his receipt for poll-tax, seems to meet with general approval. The only objection we have heard from any source is that under our State Constitution the Legislature has no right to pass such a law. We are of a different opinion and would like to see the point discussed and settled.

We have received from a prominent citizen and able lawyer of Chatham county, the following strong argument in favor of the advocacy of the position of the NEWS:

PITTSBORO, Jan. 3rd, 1873.

Editors Daily News:

GENTLEMEN:—To hold up your hands in the good cause you are now advocating, viz, that voters, if liable, must show tax receipts for poll-tax, I send you the following official figures in the county of Chatham:

Number of taxable white polls, of insolvents,	1,500
Total paying poll-tax,	1,505
Number of colored taxable polls, of insolvents,	391
Total paying poll-tax,	15

In the above figures, unlisted taxable polls are not counted, nor are they heard from except on the day of the election. I have seen no taxpayer of either of the parties who is not in favor of the change.

It is Chatham county is a fair specimen, and we presume it is, then nearly four-fifths of the colored voters of the State do not pay any poll-tax. Out of five hundred and ninety-one colored taxable polls, four hundred and sixty-four are put down as insolvents, leaving one hundred and twenty-seven to pay tax!

A few days ago, without having any data at hand, we gave it as our opinion that at least twenty-five thousand voters in North Carolina paid no poll or other taxes of any description.

We felt sure our estimate was too small, but we preferred to be below than above the actual number.

Suppose we put the number of colored voters in the State who do not pay their poll tax at three-fourths of the whole colored taxable polls, and this is more favorable than the statistics from Chatham show to be the proportion in that County, then we have of the eighty thousand colored voters in North Carolina, sixty thousand who did not pay their poll tax, but are valid as insolvents.

Pass the law, and you will hear no more of the insolventy of the great majority of these paupers.

The constitutional obstacle is the only one that lies in the way of the speedy passage of the law. We have already given all that the Constitution says in regard to the right of suffrage and the qualification of electors. We do not think any of these provisions prohibit the Legislature from enacting the poll-tax receipt law.

ENDORSED.

The Battleboro Advance and the Kinston Gazette endorse our views in regard to a change in the law, requiring voters to pay their poll tax.

The Advance also suggests that a residence of thirty days in a county is not long enough to entitle a person to a vote, but that six months ought to be required. Under the present law the Advance says truly that a candidate with money can easily hire a number of hands from another county thirty days before the election, who will swear to their residence in the county in which they were last employed, and thus any quantity of voters can be imported. This will prevent colonizing, which has become so common in certain counties.

In regard to the tax receipt law, the Kinston Gazette copies our editorial with approving remarks, and makes the following suggestion, which we heartily approve:

"When the voter goes to cast his ballot, let him pass in his tax receipt to be canceled, so that he may not use it again for the purpose of repeating. One of the inspectors can cancel the receipt with a small stamp much faster than the votes can be registered."

That is a good idea, and we ask that it be incorporated in the bill on the subject, when the matter comes up for discussion in the Legislature.

COMPLIMENTARY.

The last Asheville Pioneer copies a communication which appeared in our columns a few days since, on the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad, and prefaces it with the following complimentary remarks:

"We find the following sensible communication in the Raleigh Daily News of the 22nd inst. We think the views of the author, whoever he may be, are clear and sensible, and tend to excite the sentiment of almost every body in the West, in particular upon our Railroad matters."

We have heard complimentary remarks on the same communication from other sources. Several inquiries have been made of us concerning its authorship, but we are not at liberty to divulge the name of the writer. We can only say that the article is from one of North Carolina's most accomplished and devoted daughters, who is an ardent advocate of the interests of the Western section of the State.

AGAINST USURY.

The Piedmont Press is strongly in favor of the repeal of the usury law. We will publish an editorial on that paper on the subject in a few days.

KINSTON GAZETTE.

We learn that the Editor and Proprietor of this sterling sheet expects to change his paper to a semi-weekly soon. We regard the Gazette as one of the truest and most deserving papers in the State, and it is eminently worthy of a liberal support at the hands of the people of Lenoir and the adjoining counties.

By the way, we notice that the Gazette does not favor the repeal of usury laws, but holds that the rates of interest ought to be fixed at a fair price by law.

BOGUS OFFICERS—A RADICAL TRICK.

We suspect there have been many more rascals playing the game of this man Woodward, mentioned below, of whom we never heard before.

We copy from a Washington correspondent: "A candidate for the penitentiary, living in North Carolina, signing himself James Woodward, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has been deceiving the tax payers with bogus appointments as secret agents for the Revenue Bureau. One of the appointees was honest enough to write to Commissioner Douglas for more explicit instructions, which developed the imposition. The commissions were written on paper with official printed headings, and addressed in envelopes bearing like marks of genuineness, well calculated, as the bank note detectives have it, to deceive."

NORTH CAROLINA ROMANCE.

The Norfolk Journal of Friday gives the following interesting account of a "Story of a Ring" in its local columns, in which a citizen of this State is made to figure conspicuously. The Journal says:

"Thirteen years ago Capt. —, a gallant son of the Old North State, became enamored with a lovely young lady of his native State, and after the usual courtship succeeded in gaining her consent to their union at a very distant day. As a pledge of their betrothal the lover gave the bride expectant a splendid solitaire diamond ring. Time wore on, unforeseen circumstances prevented the marriage at the appointed time, the lovers quarreled (as all lovers do), and finally the engagement was broken off—the lady returning the ring. Eight years afterwards the parties, neither of whom had married, became reconciled, and after a short engagement, were married. The diamond ring, the pledge of the first engagement, had been sold, in the meantime. The happy groom, wishing to recover it, advertised for it, but all traces of the purchaser was lost, and there seemed little chance of regaining it.

A few days ago Capt. — accidentally met the purchaser of his ring in this city. On mentioning the cause of his anxiety to recover the ring, the gentleman readily consented to sell it to him. It was taken to Freeman's jewelry store, where it was reset and the gleeful husband took it back to his wife in Washington, N. C., yesterday morning. Thus, after the lapse of an eighth of a century, the ring is returned to its original fair possessor. The gallantry of the husband deserves special mention, because the ladies say the men are all devoted until marriage, after which they think more of their comfort than of the divine passion (are the two incompatible?)"

THE AMNESTY ACT.

The last Goldsboro Messenger has a lengthy and able editorial upon the Amnesty Bill which has passed the Senate, from which we make the following extracts, endorsing the compliment it pays to Senator Allen and to those who assisted in the passage of the bill.

"A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT FOR AMNESTY AND PARDON.—Such is the title of a bill recently introduced in the Senate of the General Assembly of North Carolina, by Col. Wm. A. Allen, Senator from Duplin, as chairman, we believe, of the Judiciary Committee. The text of the bill, fully setting forth its objects, will be found in another column. The bill is a good one. It has for its primary object, not the pardon or amnesty of criminals so much as the restoration of peace, harmony and friendship among all our citizens of all shades of politics. The old maxim of the law, 'it is better that 99 guilty men should go unpunished than that one innocent man should suffer' should always be uppermost in the minds of our legislators, our judges and our juries. That more than one innocent man has been punished as a Ku Kluxer is more than probable; nay it is a fact; while dozens and scores have been awarded a punishment so severe as to be out of all proportion to the offenses alleged against them, and for that very reason, command the sympathy of wise, good and humane men of all shades of politics all over the State. These men of sympathies for sorrow and suffering—these men who know how to forgive, and yet upon the principle that God is the father, men are brothers. It takes men to be far above the low, groveling instincts of the more partizan, bigot or mercenary politician before they can recognize this humane principle as a rule of action towards their fellow men. The bill under consideration does honor to the head and heart of Col. Allen and all who act with him in this matter. Neither he nor they will have anything to fear from the frowns of ignorance, malice, or tyranny, so long as a spark of regenerate humanity flickers in the breast of man. We hope this bill will be speedily enacted into a law, though it is almost hopeless against hope that such an act of humanity can be performed in these dark days of political hatred, partizan strife and unjustifiable persecution."

"To Colonel Allen, who introduced the bill under consideration, and all its friends and advocates we feel justified in offering the hearty congratulations of all their constituents who have hearts to appreciate what is good and great and noble and generous in man."

The Battleboro Advance has the following comments on the same subject: A bill has been introduced in the State Senate, by Col. W. A. Allen, of Duplin, extending Amnesty to all persons, who have committed crimes as members of the Ku Klux, Union League or other secret organizations. This bill is violently opposed by the Radicals upon the ground that the members of the Union League have never committed crimes as an organized clan, while they aver that the Ku Klux have.

The object of this bill is no doubt a good one, and is intended to heal political differences and bury, as far as the Legislature can, all recollection of these secret clans, which have been a disgrace to the State. Whether the passage of the bill will accomplish that object or not, we cannot say. But its passage will be a step in the right direction. It is amnesty for political offences.

As to the cry of the Radicals, that the Union League has not committed crime, readers in this section know better. It is a cry in the memory, how one Wiley Taylor, colored, was arrested in his field at work, near Battleboro by a crowd, armed, sent by order of the League at this place, and that he was dragged from his work in the presence of his family and actually threatened in the meeting with death. It has not been forgotten, that a warrant was issued for the arrest of these Union Leaguers and that some of them were actually tried, convicted and imprisoned. Nor has it been forgotten that the notorious Tatten was pardoned out of Tarboro jail while Holden was at the same time Governor of North Carolina and President of the Union League! These facts our readers are familiar with. No Ku Klux outrages have ever been committed in this section.

"We publish the above facts in reply to the affected innocence assumed by the Union Leaguers, who have never committed any crimes! Oh, outraged and insulted Innocence!"

OBITUARY.

DEED, at his residence in Louisville, on Sunday, the 24th day of January, 1873, after a lingering illness, Dr. A. S. PERRY, aged sixty-five years.

For many years Dr. Perry has been one of the most prominent and useful citizens of the county of Franklin, and there is no man in the county whose loss would be more felt or whose death more deplored. In early life he was engaged in the practice of medicine, and so discharged the duties of that humane profession as to make a name for himself. He was a man of great energy, and devoted his attention to the management of his large private estate. Though for many years his health was not vigorous, yet he was never idle, and after he had become so feeble as not to be able to leave his house, he continued to manifest an active interest in all that pertained to the welfare of his family and friends. He was possessed of fine intelligence and superior judgment; was hospitable without ostentation; charitable without boasting; of unimpeachable integrity; candid and free from deceit in his intercourse with men; and liberal and just in all his dealings. He made no display of kindness, yet few did more kind and generous deeds. His interest in the honor and welfare of his country, and belonged to the old school of patriots that adorned the purer days of the Republic.

He bore his protracted illness with patience and fortitude, and was not afraid to die, but seemed anxious for that year which he knew could only be reached through the gates of death. The Rite of Confirmation was administered by Bishop Atkinson during his last visit to this parish, and he died in the communion of the Episcopal church, and in the arms of his family, leaving a widow and an interesting family of children, who will long live in the memory of the good people of the county of Franklin, and whose goodness of heart and deeds of kindness, Louisville, Jan. 28th, 1873.
